JULIAN BYRD — — — Manager

Railroad prospects continue brighter and there is no longer any doubt of immediate construction work. Inquiries continue to pour in and there is sufficient correspondence of this character to keep one person quite busy if properly cared for.

Swift and Co. the big Chicago packing concern, are making inquiries regarding the price of cattle in this county and asking advice as to the possibility of shipping from here to Chicago. This is a good thing to encourage as it would no doubt mean the highest prices at all times and a market for the entire stock output.

County Treasurer Dalton has a call in this issue for all outstanding warrants. This is certainly gratifying to the taxpayers and with the present taxes being collected it is reasonable to assert that the county will be on a cash basis for the entire year. This is one of the best advertisements to the many homesekers looking for locations in the great Harney country. With improved roads, excellent schools, churches and crop prospects, Harney county will certainly enjoy a decided change during the coming year.

Jasper Davis, the pioneer of Harney, will be a candidate for county commissioner and has announced his platform in this issue. Mr. Davis needs no introduction to the people of Harney county for he is widely known. He is one of the progressive farmers who has always taken a pride in home institutions and conscientiously exploits the virtues of Harney country. He believes in improvement and takes an interest in all public enterprises looking to the betterment of his community or the people in general. He would be a square officer in case he was the choice of the people.

After much solicitation of friends J. R. Jenkins, the Stein Mountain stockman, has consented to make the race for county commissioner and his announcement appears in this issue. Mr. Jenkins is one of the most successful stockmen in this section with everything to recommend him as the logical candidate for the democrats. He is popular and his home is centrally located with the backing of a large country. His qualifications cannot be questioned and since it will be really a sacrifice to his business interests to attend the duties of the office, it is known he is prompted only by a desire to serve the people only in the interest of a sound and business-like administration of the affairs of the county. He would make a good commissioner and one in whom the people place every confidence.

GEO. FRY AS A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MAN

George Fry of Poison Creek precinct, has announced himself as a candidate for nomination as a republican for the office of County Judge of Harney county.

Mr. Fry has been a resident of Harney county for the past twenty one years and came here as a working man and for the first five years of his residence in this country did any old hard work for a living and during that time earned and saved enough to give him a start, when he embarked in the mercantile business in Burns, in the year 1890; by his fair and honest dealings he forged to the front and succeeded in building up a business which was a credit to any man. After eleven years of successful business as a merchant he sold out to his present successors Schwartz & Budelman.

As a recommendation Mr. Fry can boast that his former patrons while a merchant are his most ardent supporters for the nomination.

Less than two weeks after Mr. Fry sold his business to Schwartz & Budelman he received a call from the stockholders of the "Citizens Bank" of Burns, to take charge of its affairs and if possible save it from enforced bankruptcy; after due consideration he concluded the bank could be saved if $15,000 could be raised and proposed to put up $8,000 of this amount himself, the other stock holders putting up the balance, and in less than eighteen months he succeeded in paying every depositor in full and paying off the indebtedness at one hundred cents on the dollar saving the stock-holders from disgrace, the depositors from loss and averting a crash which seemed inevitable.

A pretty safe man for county judge. Mr. Fry now resides on his ranch on Poison creek where he is engaged in farming and stock raising.

HARNEY LOCALS.

A musical and literary entertainment for the benefit of the Sunday school to procure new singing books will be given in the City Hall Saturday March 10th at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. J. E. Hayes has had the scholars in training for some time past and the program will be interesting and entertaining. Everybody are invited to attend.

The countenance of Prof. L. M. Hamilton was covered with a broad smile Thursday as he received the certificates of promotion resulting from the recent examination of the eighth pupils and while feeling regret at losing the companionship of his pupils he felt justly proud of their success in passing to the high school.

J. W. Shown who has been feeding at the Island drove up his stock last week and is hauling hay to feed at home.

W. D. Huffman was visiting friends here several days this week. Alma Davis who is feeding for L. P. Poujade paid home folks a visit Sunday.

The young ladies have missed Harry Withers from the social gatherings this winter but he came up from the Island Sunday for a visit and it was a relief to some to know he was alive.

The family of Joe Clark are again at home on the Clendenin place east of town.

H. Heimick of Payette Idaho has been looking up horses over in Crook county and returned eastward Wednesday after enjoying the comforts of the Harney Hotel Tuesday night.

Alfalfa seed, Alsike clover seed, Timothy seed, Red top seed, Turkistan alfalfa seed, Red clover seed, Call and examine and get prices. Geer & Commins.

Walter Gray accompanied by his wife came up from Laven Tuesday to attend the Harney Board of Trade meeting and to circulate among his republican friends to invite their support for his nomination for sheriff.

Wm. Hanley came over from Burns Wednesday evening and while here was entertained by Mr. Seth Bower.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Richardson, Dave Richardson and Grapda Mickel were Burns visitors Thursday. "Lon" is receiving a great deal of encouragement over his prospects for nomination for sheriff.

Jasper Davis and wife and Theo Coleman departed for Burns Thursday morning to attend the Cantata Esther. Mr. Davis told his friends if he came back wearing a new hat they could know his political friends had prevailed on him to consent to run for commissioner. He procured the hat in time for use at the Cantata so Harney has another candidate in the field.

A merry party was making Wednesday afternoon to attend the court of King Ahasuerus and pay homage to the beautiful Esther. It consisted of L. M. Hamilton, Roy Bunyard, Geo James and their wives, Mrs. Katie Bunyard, Mrs. Cortes Elliott, Mrs. A. E. Millard, Mabel Withers, Ula Drinkwater, Zella Irving, Eliza Loggan, Eva Russell, Pearl Ward, Florence Richardson, Blanch Vickers, Delta Dilgard, Grover Goodlow, Jimmie Buckland, Dot Davis, Fred Tregaskis and Hugh Hastie. Enjoying the beautiful rendition of the famous Bible story to the fullest extent an enjoyable ride home in the large four horse bob sled landed them at Harney about 2 a.m. enabling the teachers and pupils to dream a few hours of their pleasure, a few hours of their pleasant trip before resuming school and other duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford and baby accompanied by Miss Agnes Ward were Harneysites who took in the enjoyable Cantata.

J. P. Rector came in and put up at the Harney hotel Thursday night. Friday he was shaking hands and conferring with his many friends in this vicinity.

The Harney Board of Trade held a very interesting meeting last Tuesday night and there was a good attendance of the citizens of Harney and vicinity. Reports were received of the progress of the work of the board for the past month in various directions. Wm. Hanley, of the Harney Valley Improvement Company was present and was introduced by President Jasper Davis. For about three quarters of an hour the audience gave him the closest attention and listened earnestly to his remarks concerning the projected development of Harney Valley by the incoming of home makers and settlers and the need of co-operation and working together for all plans that have for their object the improvement and development of Harney County. He spoke of the irrigation project in which his company is interested and their confidence in its utility and success for the benefit of the valley if all the people can see the advantages that would result and assist in its promotion. Many present were interested and sought for further information after the close of the meeting.
